BURLEY GROWERS TO MEET IN LEXINGTON

Plans for a meeting of Burley tobacco growers to be held at the Experiment Station, in Lexington, August 10 for the purpose of acquainting the growers with the work of the station along tobacco lines and presenting several subjects of special interest to growers of the crop were announced by station authorities. Chief interest in the program of the meeting is expected to be centered around the experiments being conducted by the station to compare root rot restraint strains of tobacco with the Burley varieties commonly grown in Kentucky. Marked differences already are noticeable between restraint and common varieties in the plots where they are being grown side by side on the station farm and by the time of the meeting it is expected that the value of the restraint varieties in controlling the rot will be plainly evident. The disease is held to be the most serious one of the tobacco crop in Kentucky. Speakers announced for the meeting include James C. Stone, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association; R. M. Barker, director of the warehouses for the association; Director Thos. P. Cooper, of the station; E. J. Kenney, tobacco specialist of the plant pathologist. Mr. Barker will give a demonstration showing how farmers can realize a better price for their crop by more careful grading.

SUCCESSOR TO "HUMORESQUE"

Another Fannie Hurst story will be seen on the screen at the Alamo and Grand this afternoon and tonight, Tuesday, July 18. It is "Just Around the Corner," a Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture, directed by Frances Marion, who also wrote the scenario. It is hailed as an epic of the East Side of New York and a fitting successor to "Humoresque."

In the game at Winchester, Saturday the Mammoths shut out the Winchester team by a score of 1 to 0. The game was a pitcher's duel between "Rasty" Wright and Wills. Wright yielded but two singles, but his support was wabbling at times and the Paris team made their lone score in the fourth inning on two errors and a sacrifice. Paris played perfect ball behind Wills, who allowed only four hits, one being a three-bagger by Hsie. Wright struck out nine men, while Wills was officially credited with seven. Both pitchers played a fine game. The batteries were: For Paris, Wills and Bracke, for Winchester, Wright and Gerhouse. The game went one hour and forty-five minutes. Spade umpiring. Paris fans were delighted with the splendid showing made by the Mammoths. The Paris delegation largely outnumbered the attendance from the Winchester side of the game.

There are eight 300 batters in the Blue Grass League, according to official figures just given out. Four of these are Paris players, as follows: Nippert, 394; Cicona, 367; Bracke, 364; Wills, 309. These averages were figured on nine games and do not include Saturday and Sunday games.

Hundreds of Paris fans who journeyed to Winchester, Sunday saw the Mammoths take another game from the Winchester team, the score being 8 to 1. The game was not as full of thrills as that of Saturday, when the Mammoths blanketed the Dodgers in a shut-out game.

Paris hit Coleman hard and took advantage of costly errors made by the Dodgers. Miner was in excellent form, and pitched a good game, allowing but six hits, which were well scattered. A feature of the game was the hitting by Ollie Mann, who rapped out several good ones. The game was witnessed by an unusually large crowd, fully one-half being from Paris and Bourbon county. The batteries were: For Paris, Miner and Macke; for Winchester, Coleman and Grehouse. The game went for one hour and fifty-five minutes and was umpired by Spade.

All "fans" are a unit in giving credit to Hurst, Lexington's "cast-off" for the victory in which the Mammoths scored against Lexington in Thursday's game at Lexington. This was Hurst's first appearance in a Paris uniform, and he made his entry memorable against his former teammates. In the second inning Hurst drove one of Monhollen's southpaw curves over the left field fence, with Mann resting on third base, which brought a two-run lead for the Mammoths. Again in the sixth inning Hurst, after getting to first base on a pass, pranced across the plate with the third run of the game.

In the Church League series the Presbyterians defeated the Baptists in the game played on Hancock Field Friday afternoon by a score of 6 to 5. The game was well-played at all points. The next game in the series will be between the Baptists and the Methodists this (Tuesday) afternoon.

On account of the death of Paul Jones, who was a member of the Sunday School class of the Methodist church, the baseball game scheduled for this afternoon between the Methodist and Baptist teams in the Church League, has been postponed until another date, due notice of which will be given through the press.

Sterling.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

President Harding personally intervened Saturday in the railroad strike situation, but the success of his efforts to remedy conditions, now admitted generally by government officials to be serious, will remain undetermined until this week, when the officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees meet in Detroit.

The President discussed the strike situation at length with E. F. Grable and Fred L. Frick, executive representatives of the maintenance of way employees.

A statement announced that the President received for the first time direct information as to the workers' side to the controversy and also for the first time presented direct to a recognized representative of the employees the position of the government.

Peace negotiations to end the shopmen's strike were temporarily at a standstill following Friday's separate conferences between shop leaders, rail executives and Railroad Labor Board members.

Executives of western railroads declared they will not agree to any plan inconsistent with the Labor Board's decision, but are willing to attend any meeting or hearing to effect a settlement in line with the Board's rulings.

E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way organization, after a conference with President Harding, said there would be no immediate walkout of his organization.

Chairman Cummins, of the Interstate Commerce Committee, said hearings will be started soon looking toward a revision of the transportation act.

A veil of silence descended like a blanket over the rail strike situation yesterday as both railroad heads and strike leaders turned hopeful eyes toward the momentous developments the new week was expected to bring forth.

The bitterness which has marked the progress of the walkout at times during the past two weeks seemed to have been succeeded by a peace almost approaching an understanding.

Railroads must cease their reported efforts to compel maintenance of way workers to perform the duties of striking shop employees or the maintenance of way men will be called out on strike. E. F. Grable, international president of the maintenance of way brotherhood declared at Chicago, yesterday.

Mr. Grable indicated that in any event, no strike action by his organization could be expected before Thursday, the date he has set for a meeting of the brotherhood's grand lodge, which includes the general chairman of all divisions and members of the executive council.

ETHEL CLAYTON IN "EXIT THE VAMP"

Is it possible for a wife to vamp her husband? Can she sufficiently conceal her identity by the aid of cosmetics to prevent recognition and delude her husband into the belief that she is the other woman with whom he is temporarily infatuated?

In her new Paramount picture, "Exit—the Vamp," which will be the big feature at the Alamo and Grand to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon and evening. Ethel Clayton answers these questions emphatically in the affirmative. In fact, she proves that a wife who is neglected by her husband in favor of another woman, may win him back again by vamping him, while if she created a violent scene, she might have lost him forever.

Miss Clayton has an exceptionally strong role in this new Clara Beranger story produced by Frank Urson with unusually artistic results. It is an appealing story, with many gripping qualities and situations that thrill.

T. Roy Barnes, a well known stage player, plays opposite Miss Clayton. Fountaine La Rue, who scored heavily in "The Lost Romance" and "Beyond" is seen as the vamp in this production. Theodore Roberts, "the grand old man of the screen," has a congenial role, and others in the cast include William Boyd, Mickey Moore and Mattie Peters.

IMPORTED STALLIONS SHIPPED

Artur B. Hancock, of Claiborne Farm, near Paris, has received a cablegram from London stating that the stallions, War Cloud and Star Hawk, which he leased from A. K. McComber, and the yearling sister of Star Hawk, which he purchased from J. B. Noel's consignment to the recent sales at Newmarket, are coming over on the Menominee, which sailed several days ago for America.

The two stallions were in France and were sent across the English Channel in order to catch the outgoing steamer for America. When they arrived they will be placed in Mr. Hancock's Claiborne Stud, at his farm near Paris.

MOONSHINE CAPTURED IN RAIDS

Armed with search warrants, Sheriff M. Peale Collier, Deputy Sheriffs Gibson and Thomas, made a series of raids at suspected places Saturday morning, taking in tow a large amount of moonshine liquor, and taking one man into custody.

One of the places visited was the home of Annie English white, on West street. When the officers reached the door, it was alleged she met them with a pistol in her hand. The weapon was knocked out of her hand by Sheriff Collier, when she rushed to a bed and secured another one. This was also taken from her by the officers and the house was searched. No liquor was found in the place.

At the home of Sam Howard, colored, on Locust street, in Claysville about one gallon of moonshine was found in fruit jars and half-pint bottles, buried in the ground and covered with an old carpet. Howard was not at home at the time, and has not yet been caught. The officers also visited the home of Jim Patterson, in Claysville, where a small amount of liquor was found and a number of empty bottles. Patterson was arrested. The home of Chester Hall, colored on Second street, was also searched, but no liquor was found.

BURNED BY GASOLINE

Miller Kiser, son of James T. Kiser, of near Paris, met with a serious accident from which he received injuries that may disfigure him for life, but from which his physicians say he will recover.

Mr. Kiser, who is about thirty years of age, was engaged in threshing wheat on the farm of Mrs. Lisle Jacoby, near Black's Cross Roads. He was priming the engine with gasoline, when the backfire from the engine caused the gasoline in the can to explode, throwing a shower of burning liquid over him. He was badly burned about the face, head and body. Several physicians were summoned, who applied first aid treatment, and Mr. Kiser was removed to his home. He was said yesterday to be in a serious condition.

POSTOFFICE CLERKS TO GET SATURDAY HOLIDAY

Clerks employed in postoffices throughout the United States will, during the remainder of the summer season, be permitted to enjoy a half holiday each Saturday, providing the work assigned to them has been completed by noon on that day, under an order issued by First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett.

STAMPS WILL SHOW MOTORING PROGRESS

Inasmuch as the public has discarded the bicycle for the motorcycle, the Government has decided it might just as well publicly recognize the progress of civilization, and so the Postoffice Department had announced that in the future all special delivery stamps will bear engravings of messenger boys standing beside motorcycles and not bicycles.
